Would you like to track what you read? You can use the following list to track every time you complete a book. There are 31 spaces for each book, but you can do as I do and first cross (/) the circle. Then, on second pass you can cross is the other way (\). Then on the third pass you can color it lightly in pencil, Then on the fourth pass you can use blue ink. Finally, on the fifth pass you use black ink. When you have completed a book that way you will have read it 155 times. If you are at this point quite attached to your sheet, you can continue tracking by ringing each circle in red for your sixth pass. For your seventh, simply mark a dot above each circle. For your eight, add another dot on top or ring your dot with a circle. You get the idea.... This is, in a sense, your life's work and this reading tracker, along with your Bible, will be an heirloom.

Your tracker follows on the next 5 pages. I suggest printing them double sided to make things easier to keep track of.
